My favorite book is "Senwa Bokuwokaku". It's a growth story. The protagonist lost his loved one and is devoted to sadness. One day, the hero meets an ink painting. From there, it is a story of learning important things and growing. What I like about this book is that I try new things, when I have tough days... In that case, this book teaches me important things, and helps me. This is one book I would like you to read because it is like a present. Please read and see.
